Dear Brother Short:

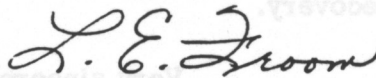

I was definitely disappointed at the tone and content of your recent communication. It is most regrettable that you should make certain dogmatic statements to the effect that the emphasis of Movement of Destiny is in definite conflict with Spirit of Prophecy statements as found in the documents in the E. G. White vault.

I thought before responding I would ask Arthur White whether your statement was founded on fact or not. He said absolutely no. Furthermore, it would be in conflict with the witness of A. V. Olson, whose book was written within the confines of the vault. His table and chair were within the vault itself. He was chairman of the Board of Trustees. As such he had access to Spirit of Prophecy statements as, of course, does Arthur White. White's observation was definite concerning my own understanding.

It was a recalcitrant group that refused to respond within the larger group who did respond. Sr. White rebuked or castigated those who refused to advance. You have apparently taken the castigation of the few and applied it generally in conflict with the actual commendation and guidance of the larger number.

I think I have nothing further to say except that certain testimonies are marked to be used or printed when or where needed. With others it is indicated that they were not to be published or distributed. That Sr. White had the right and authority to so designate, cannot be challenged.

Very sincerely,

L. E. Froom
